

Region Guide

An overview of our company, North American operations and hardwood growing regions

HOW CAN WE HELP OUR CUSTOMERS BUILD more WITH LPI?

At Northwest Hardwoods, this question drives every employee, every piece of machinery and every part of our process. It's the answer we seek to produce quality products and plants, providing better yield for our customers. Simply put, it's the heart of our Guided by Yield® philosophy. Because we know that the best hardwood lumber in the world is only as good as its ability to improve a customer's bottom line.

It takes

More than a 100-year-old sawmill to produce the best hardwood lumber in the world. It takes the best people, the best machinery, the best processes, the best products and the best people to make it all work.

It takes

The Northwest Hardwoods team working together to improve the bottom line of our customers. It takes the best people, the best machinery, the best processes, the best products and the best people to make it all work.

It takes

More than a 100-year-old sawmill to produce the best hardwood lumber in the world. It takes the best people, the best machinery, the best processes, the best products and the best people to make it all work.

It takes

The Northwest Hardwoods team working together to improve the bottom line of our customers. It takes the best people, the best machinery, the best processes, the best products and the best people to make it all work.

It takes

More than a 100-year-old sawmill to produce the best hardwood lumber in the world. It takes the best people, the best machinery, the best processes, the best products and the best people to make it all work.

It takes

The Northwest Hardwoods team working together to improve the bottom line of our customers. It takes the best people, the best machinery, the best processes, the best products and the best people to make it all work.

HOW WE GROW OUR PRODUCTS

Our hardwood lumber is grown in the heart of the Northwest, where the best people, the best machinery, the best processes, the best products and the best people make it all work.

Our Regions

Northwest Hardwoods is a leading producer of hardwood lumber in the Northwest. Our products are grown in the heart of the Northwest, where the best people, the best machinery, the best processes, the best products and the best people make it all work.

Our Regions

Northwest Hardwoods is a leading producer of hardwood lumber in the Northwest. Our products are grown in the heart of the Northwest, where the best people, the best machinery, the best processes, the best products and the best people make it all work.

Our Regions

Northwest Hardwoods is a leading producer of hardwood lumber in the Northwest. Our products are grown in the heart of the Northwest, where the best people, the best machinery, the best processes, the best products and the best people make it all work.

Our Regions

Northwest Hardwoods is a leading producer of hardwood lumber in the Northwest. Our products are grown in the heart of the Northwest, where the best people, the best machinery, the best processes, the best products and the best people make it all work.